

BALUSTRADE HEALTH TECH

Balustrade's innovative uniqueness is that it is a media officer and public relations firm working in 14 different sectors.

Thus, it is the only public relations company of its kind in France that is able to weave links and build bridges between its clients from sectors as different as health and art.

Guilaine Depis' pride is really being able to bring people together, to create links that are sometimes unexpected but always fruitful and promising, in a warm, friendly and often joyful atmosphere.

Here, a souvenir photo of the event associating Philippe Cuq, President of the Union des Chirurgiens de France, a Balustrade client, with the artistic photographer Natacha Sibellas, another Balustrade client whose art consists of photographing heart surgery.

This work intertwining health and art allows us to pay tribute to caregivers and to sublimate their talent.

Physical and mental health being paramount, it is one of the most dynamic branches of Balustrade.

Here, six health entrepreneurs who are seeking to become more and more tech and trust Balustrade to support them in their development, surround Guilaine Depis.
